Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, May 24, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

The past is the past. It is rich with events and incarnations that have influenced the present. It prepared you to carry out your task in the best way that one could, with your heart and being fully surrendered. We will not insist any further in order to avoid embarrassing you; you will have to carry on for some time before moving on to something else. This journey made up of messages is unique in terms of numbers. Let us repeat — the messages are very valuable to our Mission, and time will confirm these remarks.

Our dear Kamlesh, whose action is far-reaching, will increasingly meet the growing needs of this Mission. Some transformations will be required to better address such needs and to manage everything, ensuring that the approach is simplified on the material plane, thus scaling up action at the spiritual level, as provided by the divine plans. For such a matter, nothing happens without reason; everything has long been planned and takes shape at the right time. Has it not been said that spirituality will save the world! This maxim can give one something to dream about in the current era, but why not align oneself with it as well as possible by working with faith and confidence. To the divine power, nothing is impossible. In Sahaj Marg, the field of action is open; it is large and provides everyone with an easy means to progress and to open up broad prospects ahead of oneself, extending to the Infinite. The Infinite is something to dream of — why would it not be achievable? With respect to one and all, faith and eagerness will do the rest.

Blessings to all.
