Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, May 29, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

You should consider only beauty, that which constitutes the best of your life. This life was marked by onerous ordeals; they have not diminished your appeal to the Divine — a call that has marked it profoundly. Taking down these messages is your way of expressing this love, and it supports you in everyday life. Our scribe is not ordinary. She will not only leave thousands of writings, but also a special imprint on our Mission — such is the will of the united Masters.

We all value this extraordinary and very important teaching, you can be sure. Many hearts are nourished by it and thus open up more quickly to reality. Nothing is useless in such a process. We do our best to respond to calls from our brothers and sisters, and these are intensifying at present, as originally foreseen.

The world is slowly but surely preparing for future changes. They will be important, highlighting the need for human beings to consider the spiritual aspect with greater steadfastness and as a matter of necessity for each person. We are still very far from this, but time is doing its work and the will of the Divine always brings about, in a timely fashion, that which characterises it. Our teaching advocates surrender. What better thing can one do in life, when one's surrender is in line with the higher will? Everything can then take on its true meaning and lead the seeker to his or her own source in this incarnation. May the largest number come towards our source — we will see to it.

To all, special blessings.
