Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, June 7, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Love is your elixir of life. You are moving forward against all odds — or, to use the unique French expression, "contre vents et marées". Without this extraordinary love, these thousands of messages would not have been received. While many messages are being written elsewhere, only these — the ones emanating from our divine source — are to be considered. This occurrence is unprecedented in history, and Sahaj Marg is blessed with this grace. The Masters who support it are constantly attentive to life here below and to each of the brothers and sisters committed to this initiatory journey. This word is correct; the place of the Sahaj Marg Mission is increasingly being established within the great divine scheme — one in which beautiful souls are constantly committed and listening to incarnate beings who are doing their level best to make a success of their lives.

Nothing is ever easy on Earth; everything can be overturned and destroyed in an instant, just as the best can happen unexpectedly. Thus are the laws of life. The divine purposes have their reason for existing which human beings in their smallness cannot comprehend. Acceptance, on a day-to-day basis, is the wisest thing of all; what must be, will be. Blessed are our abhyasis who are on their way. One day, they will be able to assess the benefits gained on this journey and thank the Masters who contribute to this special distinction.

To all, the best.
