Whispers from The Brighter World

Love — the one that binds us, that unites all abhyasis with the heart of the incarnate Master and, by extension, with the heart of all of us here, the cartel of united Masters who are so attentive to each one of our abhyasis. This matter is not insignificant. It is also our role to see that the Mission as a whole, in all its aspects, is not neglected. These aspects are numerous. The expansion of the Mission creates a more powerful egregore, and on the material plane, there are many facets that need to be considered in minute detail.

Our dear Kamlesh applies himself in the most advantageous manner. He is totally committed and uses all his abilities to act for the best. His personality is suited to the present times. He moves, works, and builds in his mind, developing plans that will take shape in due course. We inspire him every day, and his plans will be realised as expected. It is not easy for him to take on this very special role, to be vigilant on the material plane while still having this extraordinary spiritual action — one that is not yet recognised for what it truly is. On the human level, how can one evaluate such work? The essential thing is that this work exists, producing fruit that will fully benefit each one in time.

Spirituality is an aspect that should not be neglected. It is more important than it seems and should not be relegated to second place, but rather brought to light in one's life, for the best possible results. Only this asset, acquired in an incarnation, remains. This is to be considered carefully.

Special blessings to all.
