Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, June 22, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

You give the best of yourself in these writings emanating from our hearts. Your heart perceives us and your whole being benefits, as do our brothers and sisters who read them every day. A life offered to the Divine is productive of the best; we repeat ourselves, but how could we not, after all these years of contact resulting in written and divinely inspired messages. This history of messages is not ordinary, it is unique among its kind and in its number, since this fact is without precedent in the annals.

Human beings are so little on this Earth, an emanation of the Divine, transient and coming to accomplish what must be, to perfect this long series of incarnations, so important for each one.

This fact is not yet recognised by all – alas, one might say – ignorance is damaging. Humanity is progressing, but it will take much time to bring it to a satisfactory level of knowing. Sahaj Marg opens doors, it allows progress at the level of spiritual awakening, of sensitive and decisive points for the advancement of each one. A big step remains to be made, limits are imposed and they must be respected. An important work has nonetheless been carried out in this direction, in a century – the results can be assessed at the material level and that is not negligible. A vast space remains to be conquered and here Sahaj Marg has its place; we expect a lot from this Mission which is in full expansion and determined to advance, under the guidance of a Master highly inspired by our care. The very best to all, under our blessings.
