Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, July 2, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

We return again today to the importance of this asset consisting of the messages, the future of which will highlight all the benefits. Nothing is done without reason in our Mission; these writings will become precious, in more ways than one. Sahaj Marg is expanding throughout the world, it is taking its place and will do so more and more, called upon by many hearts in search of a spiritual path that provides real benefits. These benefits are not always assessed at their true value; they make their way surely and in their own manner. The world is in a state of agitation, looking for its bearings, one might say. Humanity deeply yearns for a redeeming energy that it cannot find in a life that is superficial and polluted in a thousand ways. Spirituality provides humans with what they aspire to, most often without truly realising it, hence the almost permanent state of dissatisfaction that prevails here below. The Wise Ones, however, are fulfilled, having within them this wealth – this treasure, one might say, since it resists time and goes beyond the framework of this incarnation, when the moment comes for that.

From one life to another is thus accumulated an inheritance, an asset that is real and lasting despite the years and the turbulence, and it is very precious. Each has their own, as well as the Karma that comes with it against all odds.

True mystics benefit from guidance, but all – from new aspirants to the faithful ones who have been committed for a very long time – benefit from the close attention of the entire hierarchy of Masters of the present and, in many cases, of the past. Blessings to all.
