Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, July 18, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

This song, long and so special, will not end; it will continue elsewhere, on the waves of celestial Love, the love that carries this Mission. We support its present Master. Heavy is his charge within this spiritual path where he is guided in the best possible way, and inspired – may he never doubt it. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être, and so will it be, according to the Divine plans. Special blessings to all.
