Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, July 27, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

This ritual has become sacred, in some way; a page is being written under our dictation, these words emanating from a divinely inspired source. This manna of messages is providential; let us reiterate that these writings will have to be kept as a treasure.

Our dear Kamlesh will conclude this action, which is desired by the gods, by making a few changes appropriate to the present time. Thereafter, the commitment of those in charge and of all our dear abhyasis will ensure that this unprecedented spiritual movement lives on over time.

What does not seem obvious today will become so in due time, what is to be will be; on this point it can be said that this path of Sahaj Marg will one day reach its peak, in the sense of a place of prominence, in this domain that is very special. May all become aware of what is uniquely offered to them and take full advantage of it while there is time. To each of our aspirants – to all – the best ever under our very special action.
