Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, July 29, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Long is the path of life; trials are not lacking, they are formative and necessary for the evolution of each person. Following a spiritual path like Sahaj Marg saves precious time. Stages are more easily traversed and clarify the effects of Karma, which allows for a personal attitude that is more in line with a true commitment. Being involved and moving towards the goal to be achieved opens up horizons and facilitates a way of life that is appropriate to this progression. The heart opens up to Grace; it benefits from it more widely, since it calls for it on a constant basis. This journey towards the Eternal then takes on its full meaning; trials are more bearable, since they determine each one's progress. All this is not easy to understand and, above all, to accept; faith and surrender trace the way more surely carried by Grace. Thus the best is accomplished.
