Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 9, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Simply offer your heart, as you do so well; our words flow into you like a rare blessing. Beyond these contacts there is a story; it will take shape in due course and it will delight many sensitive beings open to an uncommon transmission. Sahaj Marg has not yet revealed all its assets. They are many and they will adapt themselves to the new era, which will bring many changes upon this Earth. This is not happening soon, everything in its own time; our Mission is working for the good, that is the important thing.

Our abhyasis are progressing and are moving towards the goal, the one that everyone imagines, without being able to really define it. Trust and surrender are, as always, necessary; the result will only be better. All our attention spreads out upon this Mission, as well as our unceasing blessings.
