Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, August 13, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Suffering refines the vibrations, you know this only too well. Life is never simple; it is conjugated in all tenses [forms], and each one of them refines the personality, in its own manner. It is accepted to a greater or lesser degree and generates a teaching unlike any other. What seems insurmountable can be solved, most of the time, even if such solutions are not to the liking of those concerned. Without all these aspects an incarnation would not be edifying.

Everything is counted in the smallest detail, and this constitutes the asset of one's life. Trust, surrender, these terms are always the same. They enable the being to overcome trials and develop favourably in the face of them. Wisdom and balance in life are not easily achieved. Reaching this state is the sought-after goal. It opens wide the doors that lead to bliss. For this, peace of heart is essential. It helps one face up to things and develop oneself in the most beautiful manner. In this, Sahaj Marg plays a role, one that is not negligible, you can be sure.

Blessings to all.
