Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 18, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Your heart calls us and we respond; this is characteristic of these writings. Many different messages will be written down, and have been for a long time, but they differ completely in their essence. The only ones to be considered here, and that will leave their mark on time and on this Mission, are these; they are authentic, so very much so. In the past, holy writings have themselves been imitated; it has always been so. The future will clarify this situation once and for all. Love and surrender are the elements that carry this far-reaching action. Thousands of messages have accumulated here, and this is unprecedented in history. Sahaj Marg has more than one resource; not all are recognised yet. Only time will clarify the full accuracy of this practice which accompanies the lives of our brothers and sisters open to our teaching. Everything has its raison d'être and takes place at the appointed time. Our dear abhyasis are guided in a certain manner and helped beyond what is perceivable.

So it is. Blessings from us all, upon this Mission so dear to us.
