Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 23, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

On this special day for your heart, may joy reside therein and make this contact even more fruitful. Beautiful stories enrich a person's life at the human level; they are valuable and are remembered as pleasant respites. So many trials and struggles come one after the other in the course of an Earthly existence. It is so very constructive to see only the beautiful, the good, that which helps the human being overcome the uncertainties of material life.

Following a spiritual path lights the way, and it allows one to put into perspective that which is ultimately nonessential for progressing towards the goal — this goal that each aspirant longs for. Following the path of Sahaj Marg opens up opportunities. It allows seekers to put things into perspective and focus on what is essential. In this, they are helped and inspired when necessary. Everything has its purpose. May all our abhyasis rest assured, they are accompanied with all possible love.

Special blessings.
