Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, September 19, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Your sufferings are not in vain, as we have said often enough. This beautiful contact yesterday with our very dear Kamlesh was a joy for your heart; we thank him for it.

Endure, beautiful soul. This journey will be decisive for the future, be assured of this. We bless and thank your dear sisters who surround you, especially through this difficult passage. They benefit in a certain way from our endless blessings upon this extraordinary place. It will remain that way and demonstrate it in the future, in its own manner.

Very special blessings to all.

Babuji
