Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, September 24, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

An incarnation includes numerous stages; they help one cross the levels that are essential for a knowledge that is planned and necessary for each one. Trials are inevitable – no one is spared – the evolution of human beings passes through experiences that are not all pleasant. Where would the challenge be if it were not so. Acceptance is a precious asset; it greatly favours the progression of each one on this long journey where it is befitting to understand the sense of all things, on a general level.

The divine laws are incomprehensible for the human being. May each one realise it and advance against all odds, towards this 'Essential' so strongly evoked here. Our action is in this direction. To all, understanding and fervent engagement, to attain the best that can be.
