Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, October 10, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Happiness is an abstract notion that satisfies the heart and soul of the being who experiences it. That capacity is not given to all human beings; some are resistant to all graces capable of transforming a life.

Karma is inescapable, and yet, in a certain way, a true spiritual approach can work wonders and make substantial changes that one would not imagine possible. History has no shortage of examples of this kind. When one is engaged on a spiritual path, surrender and action are necessary in more ways than one. Opening one's heart to the fullness of the Spirit can work wonders.

So many of our abhyasis have followed this process, to arrive at the stage where they are now. A genuine commitment pays off so richly; our abhyasis will fully realise this when the time for assessment comes. Everything is for the best, the trajectory of Sahaj Marg will continue to work for the good of all, and it will mark these times – you can be sure of this. So it is.
