Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, October 15, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

We are not strangers to the great suffering you have experienced over the course of your life. Your journey has not been ordinary, and above all it is well hidden from the eyes of human beings. This is difficult to endure, but rewarding at certain levels of consciousness. We support you as best we can on this long journey; you are carried with love — be sure of that. You are so dear to our hearts. This painful stay on Earth will not have been in vain, as evidenced by all these messages. A subsequent and final incarnation will be the culmination of a long journey here below. Beautiful and great things will have to be achieved and you will do this masterfully. Keep going, my dear daughter, we are at your side as always. Be at peace. It will be such a great joy when we meet again.

Take heart, be blessed.

Babuji Maharaj