Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, October 25, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Imagine a space of peace and love where the best of oneself can be expressed, where the emanation of the Divine manages to manifest in all its subtlety! Is this not the ideal and sacred place where all possible love can emerge and fill an ardent heart, like yours and so many others, in this world so unsettling for human beings! Here lies the refuge of faith, of that love which is so special that it enchants the soul and opens up the way for it, one that is the most beautiful that can be.

To reach this stage of bliss is an enchantment; it is the reward of a life, more or less long in this quest for the Divine, leading to the best there is. There is nothing equal to this state – blessed are all our brothers and sisters who are motivated by this goal and who manage to reach it. Everything comes at the right moment, when time and space are favourable to the emanation of Grace; then there occurs what is priceless – Its manifestation, in all its power of action and subtlety.

So it is.

Babuji