Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, November 1, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Open this door onto the Garden, the one that gives you access to our hearts. This daily encounter is a real joy, dearest scribe; it offers perspectives on the Infinite, as human beings imagine it.

This world of illusion creates its own limits, imposing laws that conform to its vision of things.

We respect them insofar as they do not restrict our action, for the good of all those who follow us and aspire to a real progress towards the longed-for goal. Each incarnation brings what is necessary for the evolution of each one. All of these considerations are part of a global Karma that is incomprehensible in the current state of affairs; a lot of time is still needed to clean up, one might say, this world that is in the grip of multiple torments.

The rhythm of this planet Earth is very slow; it is advisable to adapt to it in order to understand the behaviour of humans. We have experienced this life. Several incarnations have allowed us to grasp all the subtleties of the divine laws governing this world of matter, so specific in its principles. The future will allow a more accurate view of the actions that characterise it today. Everything is possible for the higher powers, including the good, in all its manifestation.

Blessed and carried be our brothers and sisters in this most special initiatory journey.
