Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, November 21, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Our dear and great son Kamlesh has cleared a step; it is not easy to reach the level of Spiritual Master of a Mission having such an impact in the world. This impact cannot be measured but it is real, you can be sure. Henceforth, he has the necessary means for the best to be accomplished. Everything takes place at the appropriate pace in order to meet the karmic demands that punctuate life on Earth. Many aspects escape human understanding: why so many trials as well as physical or moral sufferings? Regarding this, acceptance is necessary. What else can be done? It helps one to understand, to grow in wisdom, and to pass through stages that are significant in many respects.

The practice of Sahaj Marg has very positive effects, which are measurable and not illusory. This world is thirsting for the Divine, without understanding it, and seeking on the material plane that which cannot really fulfil it. Everything is so complex here below; human beings advance very slowly in their self-discovery, and many incarnations are sometimes necessary to lead them through the doors of true knowledge. Thus begins a path that elevates the soul to its highest destiny. May the light be, and may it carry each of our aspirants.

Special blessings.
