Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, November 24, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

This is a sacred space, as we like to say. Repetition is necessary; the human being needs it in order to develop on all levels. A perfect human being does not yet exist; we contemplate the idea of such a being, but in a very limited number to see how they will evolve and react to the incessant difficulties of this world. Unfortunately, we do not have the power to change everything and, above all, to lead all human beings to a very high level of consciousness — the target of our work and research in general. The Sahaj Marg way contributes to this in its own manner. Nothing should be overlooked in this large-scale project that will surely see the light of day. Humanity has made such progress since the inception of this world; starting from the Stone Age and arriving at today's status is still a masterful achievement. Nothing is ever simple. Today's human beings are very spoiled. They believe that everything can be resolved by a 'click' on the computer of their dreams. Things are a little more complicated than that; planet Earth does not stand in the best position, but it is at a very satisfactory level, you can be sure. An unprecedented advancement is being prepared, and Sahaj Marg is contributing to it in its own manner, as desired by the higher power that governs the universe.

This is how it is. Special blessings to all.
