Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, November 26, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

The laws that govern your world and our worlds differ totally; in each one of these, all has been intended and planned for a long time, without anyone being able to change anything, and it is well this way for the general equilibrium. Human beings cannot understand everything, how could they? They are subjected to divine laws, whether they like it or not. Sahaj Marg is tracing its path under the attentive eye of that power and under the eye of the Masters gathered here, very specially. We make sure to help our dear great son Kamlesh; although nothing is easy for him, he is following a path that is promising in every respect. He is quite rightly the Chosen of our hearts for this Sahaj Marg Mission which over time will leave a substantial mark, you can be sure.

Each of our brother and sister abhyasis participates in this great and unifying movement, unique among its kind. Only time reveals the intentions, the profound reasons, for an action like this one, capable of generating results beyond what is currently imaginable. The history of this world is not without examples of this kind, where a path – simple and discreet at the outset – has managed to cover the world, and that for good reasons.

May the best be accomplished and help a great many hearts open up to the higher reality. All are supported and blessed, very specially.
