Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, December 1, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

What more can we say, apart from transmitting through these writings a very special energy perceived by hearts sensitive to this characteristic vibration.

This long journey of messages is unique among its kind, as wanted by the high Hierarchy; it fulfils their wishes exactly.

Thus this celestial manna constitutes a real benefit for this Mission. Each of the incarnate Masters has brought his personal touch, enabling the Mission to position itself in a special way for the good of all abhyasis, who trust us and whose numbers never cease growing. The world is changing, and so is the longing for the Divine, as was foreseen. The progress and many material conveniences of the modern world cannot satisfy that which constitutes the 'essential' part of a human being – his or her longing for the Divine, a longing that is profound even if not always easily revealed. Many obstacles hinder it, obstacles specific to a time that is troubled in more ways than one. Whatever is divinely willed always prevails in the end, for the good of all. This is what delights us.

Blessings to all once again, for the fulfilment of what must be, and will be.
