Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, December 6, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Beyond physical appearances, we here know what you are going through; it is not easy for your circle to understand it. Suffering is part of this long journey of yours. You have endured much throughout this life which has been, nonetheless, a very constructive one. Each incarnation provides that which is necessary and strengthens the being in the culmination of the process reserved for each one. Your process has not been easy; once again one could say that it is out of the ordinary. Channelling is not a rare capability, but there are many levels of it which cannot be humanly assessed. You did not ask for anything and we chose you for a very precise mission: to tune in to us every day with great rigour and unreserved commitment of the heart. It can be said that this epic will leave its mark on the history of Sahaj Marg for a very long time.

Everything in this way of the heart takes place in a state of silence and contemplation, which may seem very banal for some aspirants who have experienced important rituals in other paths. In this one, everything is simple, but productive on many levels — isn't this what matters! Everything happens in a timely manner on this very special trajectory reserved for each incarnate being. We too experienced and endured many trials on this 'obstacle course' where it is necessary to reach the desired level of consciousness. Each of our abhyasis who is involved is advancing according to an innermost appeal, and we respond accordingly.

Blessings to all, and deep motivation for the best that can be.
