Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, December 17, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Good times and bad follow one another in a lifetime, with spaces where nothing particular marks the memory. The human being's memory is sometimes fragile; it retains only what it believes to be necessary. Fortunately, the laws of Karma are there, unavoidable and oh so precise. These two aspects mentioned here are inseparable; they constitute the essential elements for a human being's future.

Committing to a spiritual path is a very precious act. It is not easy for the aspirant on this blessed path of Sahaj Marg to evaluate its benefits and the very important time saved in following such a path. When the time comes to take stock, many of our abhyasis realise how fortunate they are to have been thus guided. From one incarnation to another an action continues, one that is so decisive for the future of each person, regarding what constitutes his or her most precious asset.

To contribute to such a boon, as Sahaj Marg does, is so very delightful for the hierarchy of Masters here who serve it with so much love and joy in supporting the efforts of our very dear abhyasis.

So it is.
