Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, December 18, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

These messages constitute a true asset and will be highly appreciated in the future. They will be considered a reference in our Mission. What this future will be, we cannot define at present. At our level, we are preparing it for the best. In the silence and the secrecy of the heart is developed that which is best suited for the evolution of each of our abhyasis, and by extension, for the creation of a better world.

What does not seem possible today will come about one day; many phenomena will come to modify what exists, to bring humanity to a healthier life where hatred, such as it exists today, can make room for more vibrational harmony, essential for the overall evolution of creation. Human beings are supposed to set an example with their behaviour. We are not there yet, but this 'magic seed', let us call it, is sown. That may seem utopian. Since the beginning of life on Earth, many other major upheavals have occurred and have completely changed it. To the divine power, nothing is impossible. Human beings, whatever they may think about it, are very small, even insignificant in the face of this power. What must be will be; our Mission is active along these lines, far more than it may seem.

Blessings to all.
