Whispers from The Brighter World

The Medium: "Divine Babuji, you are the light on the path ..."

And you are following it so well, dear scribe. These writings emanate from our united hearts, which are carried by a divine energy whose essence is very subtle. This essence allows for an extraordinary action that operates according to one's call for it. Everything has its raison d'être, as we have said many a time; we are not repeating ourselves in vain.

So many beautiful souls are making progress on this path of Sahaj Marg, far beyond what they can imagine; the apparent simplicity of its action nevertheless produces convincing results. When the time comes one day, this practice will reveal all the finesse of its action. A global evolution will occur to purify a society that is in many ways distressed. Too much turbulence and multiple disturbances destabilise human beings — seriously so, for those who are more fragile and sensitive to all negative energies. 'Progress', as it is unfolding today, is quite worrying for the stability of humankind. Unfortunately, these comments can be confirmed; advantages are not the only thing this progress brings. 'What must be will be.' Changes will come at the opportune time for the future of a more just humanity — one that is conducive to everyone's evolution.

Very special blessings, in view of this prospect in which spirituality will operate in its own way for the general good.
