Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, December 23, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, do you realise the number of messages received? It does not seem so; over the years this ritual has become so natural to you. Your heart calls and we respond to it. These writings are the fruit of an uncommon love between us, and this will always be unique, you can be sure. Sahaj Marg is following its path, and it is promising in more ways than one. The future will further highlight the benefits it provides. What is being built in Hyderabad will also leave its mark on our way. History shows us how much it has been influenced by these great edifices of the past. Like them, this edifice will stand as material evidence, assuring the continued existence of this place. Humanity needs landmarks; they are necessary for the collective memory — so many facts and great events go down in the history of this world and are valued in more ways than one.

Sahaj Marg began on a small scale, as the greatest paths have done before reaching the point where they are today. Our path is making its way, one that will become bright in the future for good reason. What must be will be. May each of our abhyasis take advantage of the present moment and not neglect what is offered to them, even if they do not fully realise the importance of their journey.

Endless blessings to all of you.
