Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, January 4, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

Love carries these messages – our love, yours, and by extension the love of all our abhyasis committed to this way of the heart. All this forms a coherent whole, powerful in its effects. You can all rest assured.

This fact is not trivial. For us, being able to follow the impact of these writings, the results are very satisfying.

Here simplicity prevails, only love – this love – can generate such benefits. Why would so many messages have been given if not for something exceptional. Our Mission will carefully preserve this asset, whose importance the future will be able to measure. Our dear son Kamlesh is the Master perfectly adapted to this pivotal period. His creativity prepares the future when people will call for a different way of approaching spirituality. The Sahaj Marg edifice is solid, and the basic principles are well established in people's minds; only an evolution on the material plane has manifested over the years for the general good. What must be done, will be.

'Doesn't everything have its raison d'être?'. Sometimes it is good to innovate, to adapt to the realities of the present time, while respecting what must be respected – namely, the original foundations of this path, unique among its kind.

To all, peace and serenity on this journey towards the ultimate peace.
