Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, January 11, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

Each person's destiny is inescapable. A human being very often makes plans that cannot be realised. Such are the divine laws, and that, ultimately, is not a bad thing. Experience proves it. Our Mission itself has gone through stages that bring these laws to light.

With time, our dear and great son Kamlesh has taken the measure of his mission. It is not a minor one; he will bring a definitive touch to the Mission's structure at the material and spiritual levels. Blessed, so very much, is he, by our united hearts. All our best wishes go to him and his family, especially on the occasion of this wedding.

This is how it is.
