Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, January 12, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

On this day of grace for this family that is dear to us, all our wishes accompany them. This family is not ordinary, it will prove it, and for a long time to come; the future will justify these words. The history of this Mission is marked by many events, some seemingly trivial but, in terms of what ensues, more important than they would appear. Only time makes it possible to clarify certain situations, and that will be done, you can be sure. It will bring to light situations, facts and resources that are not insignificant in this Sahaj Marg configuration, in some way blessed by the gods. Why not say it and make the most of what is offered in the secrecy of 'the gods'.

Unceasing blessings to all, united in the egregore of this way of the heart, so special in its effects. Time always manages to highlight what is most important. May the best come about – for all.
