Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, March 5, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, the time of this rendezvous is 'sacred' in a sense; it brings together and reunites many hearts in an uncommon surge of love. Time passes, many of our brothers and sisters remain faithful; this message has become a ritual, and over time it will remain necessary and inspiring. Our scribe has worked with a lot of love; this is the mark of ardent hearts who can give selflessly. Everything has its importance in this Mission. Our great son and Master, Kamlesh, manages and perfectly masters this vast organisation, and he will take it very far and very high in its realisation. Thus, all is well.

May all hearts come together in a vast unifying movement. To all, the best.
