Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, March 8, 2017 — 10:00 a.m.

Every day, contemplation and connection to the hearts of the Masters generate a perfect communion with the Hierarchy. These messages are the result of a deep and extraordinary love; it will leave its mark on this Mission in a way that is unimaginable today. Each step forward allows this way of the heart to be a little more anchored; everything is falling into place little by little until the very best is achieved. Over time, a sacred edifice is being built, one that is capable of surpassing the limits of materiality. This way of love will produce the best possible, in order to truly unite beings on the path of peace and serenity. It is up to one and all to truly progress and win over this sacred space.

Ceaseless blessings.
