Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, March 9, 2017 — 10:00 a.m.

Be at peace — you have always done your best. The impulses of the heart are full of love here; they can only transmit a redeeming energy, as desired by the hierarchy of Masters. We want the best for this very special way. Thus is it being recognised, and it has won over a lot of brothers and sisters, leading them to the best of their quest. Here each person is advancing in the desired direction, in response to the calls of a soul thirsting for the Divine. It is taken in by the alliance of the Masters, who are very attentive to the emergence of what is good and great in this saga of the heart — a saga that is unique in many respects. May the best come about and leave in this world the mark of perfection, of excellence in every respect.

This is how it is.
