Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, March 12, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

Life is a long series of experiences, some of which are challenging but necessary in the long run. Following a spiritual path saves precious time; it clarifies situations and stabilises the life of each person. These messages constitute a very simple yet edifying teaching when received with all the necessary openness of heart. The cleanings, the meditations and this unique transmission provide much more than it seems. Why continue to take down these messages, you might say. They too have a place of honour in this Mission; they are appreciated by many of our brothers and sisters and bring benefits that can be assessed over time. Following a spiritual path is rewarding; it is rediscovered from life to life, which constitutes a significant contribution, you can be sure. To all, our ceaseless blessings for the best to be accomplished.
