Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, April 12, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

Incessant tests come to disrupt the lives of human beings; such are the divine laws which, in all their subtleties, govern them. The human being is so small in the face of these laws; one can only accommodate to their rigours. Karma is very mysterious; what does it really signify? Can it be explored more deeply and represent a real benefit through a meticulous approach?

In reality, human beings can only accept; they plan their lives, but what does God do – He laughs! This is an old saying, but the laws remain the same, and nothing will change here below, you can believe it.

Centuries will pass before a new world emerges, where everything will have to be reconsidered. Foolish are those who think they know. One day, for each one, the divine goal will be reached. The worlds evolve far from human understanding; what does it matter, since the final objective is inevitable. Here will be the apotheosis, 'reality' will appear to the eyes of humanity in all its truth. Finally, humankind will access it, and for the best reasons ever.

This is how it is.
