Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 15, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

The union of valiant hearts in our Mission creates a magical chain that carries it daily. Focused on the essential, the abhyasi is eager to pursue his or her quest, enthused about the results obtained.

One cannot really measure the effects of this subtle and surprising work in the long term. Each of the past centuries has been able to assess the limits imposed by materiality. The wise try to see further and more correctly in their conception of things. Many centuries have helped enlighten the world, opening prospects for a promising future. An important spiritual advancement will be decisive, and Sahaj Marg, in its own manner, is preparing it. Much effort and understanding will be required to bring this world to a better approach to the Divine. Everything must change, especially minds, otherwise nothing great can be developed. Everything is being prepared in the best possible perspective. It is up to each one to contemplate this prospect and to create within themselves what is suitable for it. For our part, we are working for the greatness of this world, such as it is envisioned. This is how it is.
