Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, April 18, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.

Many hearts have rejoiced to read us; these writings have formed a magic chain supporting the transmission of the Masters. They will remain the distinctive feature of our way, that of the heart and the sovereign Spirit, in accordance with the wishes of the Masters. Sahaj Marg, through its action, will be fully revealed in the future.

Everything is destined to change, to evolve over time, and this for good reasons. Our way will leave its mark, one that is slightly different from what exists today – that is to say, being able to adapt to the situations of the moment. We want the best for this spiritual path, which does not yet reveal all its greatness.

It is not given to the world in vain; visionary minds are not mistaken about it. It is not easy to highlight all the good reasons for our action, which is on the horizon for the general good. Everything is destined to change; we are preparing these times to come. Pioneers in many respects, we want the best for all. Endless blessings to each abhyasi and to those who, entrusted with a mission, are performing it rightfully and with love. To all, the best.
