My child, at this stage, we can only repeat ourselves in the messages, which we also do in the books and the speeches. Life itself is a series of new beginnings both in yours and in the cycles of nature. It is what characterizes life on the Earth; you must conform to it and adapt yourself to these ceaseless repetitions. As far as we are concerned, we cannot give you other revelations which could not be accepted when the circle enlarges... We have given some of them, related to the origin of great religions, which will not be understood by all. It will take time and evidence, mainly, for these remarks to be accepted. But there too, never mind! With the passing of the centuries, minds are opening up to knowledge and the time will come when this phenomenon accelerates by force of circumstance. Great mutations of a universal nature will bring about a transformation of mankind.

"All that will not happen tomorrow; it is a vast program, which will cover future centuries. Your current incarnation will not witness its happening; therefore don't worry about it! Devote yourself only to your own evolution."
