Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, May 29, 2017 — 10:00 a.m.

Let yourself be carried away by this wave of love that delights your heart — a heart that only aspires to this. Repetition is necessary, as you know; without it, the world such as it is would not exist.

The Sahaj Marg Mission is expanding rapidly. It has been shaped over the years and has not yet reached its highest and most productive level. Our dear Kamlesh will further amaze us; the future will inspire him in a very satisfactory manner. We are delineating for him broader and more efficient foundations in space. He will adapt to diverse situations, and we will inspire him as always. Without appearing so, this world is evolving and preparing a future in line with cosmic variations. The evolution of humanity is inevitable; we are following the process, and thus all is well.

May this path respond ever more to the aspirations of the multitude, of all our brothers and sisters who have long been committed and inspired as they should be. May the best arise for each of them.
