Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, April 29, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

These anniversary days are very important for our Mission. May all our abhyasis consider them as such and fully benefit from the very special energy emanating from them. These celebrations are milestones in time, and for good reason. Everything is done for the good of one and all, especially here where we want the best for each of our brothers and sisters who are committed on all levels.

During these days, the transmission is very special, and it benefits every aspect of this great and beautiful way of the heart, whose heart-felt link is essential for our abhyasis, wherever they may be. We value this link at its true worth. Nothing is without purpose, here in particular; our method has major advantages, and its action goes well beyond a spiritual commitment. It is not easy for our abhyasis to delve into all these considerations. What matters is to be truly committed to this conquest of the heart, towards a spiritual ideal that bears fruit beyond what any of them can imagine. The future will more clearly demonstrate the result, namely that the perceptions of the human being will be increased tenfold from what they are today.

We benefit from many privileges on this path. One day, they will become even more evident, with the transformations that are reserved for this planet in the future. We are confident and very pleased about this rather heartening outlook. May these celebrations strengthen our aspirants in their quest for the Divine, and may our love and blessings always carry them towards the best.
