Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, December 26, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Immerse yourself in us. This pervading silence fosters an even more precious moment; your heart awaits this, as do ours. This ritual has become a tradition in Sahaj Marg.

All these years of steadfastness and accuracy have facilitated your reception of these messages. They are, and will remain, unique in many respects. Our special relationship has fostered this long journey. We will surely meet again, and your action will continue in a different way — always serving, of course. You have proved yourself so very well, with love as the guiding thread. You never sought to put yourself forward, and this is precious to us.

Many of our brothers and sisters follow these messages and derive help from them on a daily basis. Can one dream of a more beautiful action? Many of our abhyasis are also committed and devote much of their time to service. We are very grateful to them and also delighted to see them thus gaining precious time on their long journey towards the Eternal. Everything has its raison d'être — every action, every event adds to the very special experience that constitutes each individual's karma. Following a path like ours is decisive in one's progress towards the ultimate goal. A day will come when you will all realise this and take full advantage of such grace.

Blessings to all.
