Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, December 28, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

See only the good, the beautiful, that which enchants the soul beyond all things. This space where the Divine manifests is a true blessing for your heart and the hearts of so many abhyasis worldwide who are following us faithfully. They are particularly blessed. This space of transmission is unique; our action is beyond words and is active, you can be sure. Words are repeated — this is necessary; everything in life is eternally beginning anew. Transcending matter and calling into oneself the manifestation of the spirit, the Master's transmission, is the wisest thing ever.

It can take time to admit this necessity — the imperative need to unite with the Divine. Many aspects are to be considered here: finding one's way and one's Master makes it possible to take a big step. It is a rare opportunity to follow a spiritual path under the guidance of an incarnate Master and to benefit from our concerted action — a guidance that is active in more ways than one. This is worth emphasising.

Sahaj Marg is growing in power, and time strengthens it in many ways. This is very positive, and it encourages us to carry on ever more strongly for the general well-being. Nothing in this domain, as elsewhere, is achieved painlessly or without perseverance. Blessed is a fervent and surrendered heart.

We wish the best to all, in light of the coming new year. May all benefit from the best that can be and focus on what is essential, supported by our special blessings.
