Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, December 29, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Everything changes, everything passes, except for these rendezvous of the heart that have been taking place for such a long time. It is a beautiful story. When the heart inspires it in a certain manner, it has no end. It will always be unique in our Mission; such are the laws, those that concern us here. These writings will accompany our dear son Kamlesh, and he will be able to refer to them when necessary; we help him as much as possible in his heavy task. He is truly up to the mark, and this makes us happy. We have let him soar, to then better guide him when necessary.

Nothing is ever simple, and human beings sometimes complicate things that should not be complicated. Times are changing. Imperceptibly, the future in general, and that of our Mission, is being put into place. In this area, it is necessary to facilitate that which can be helped. We see to the welfare of the Mission with great care. Its impact in the future will be important. What was initially this little way of the heart is now stretching its wings for the good of a large number of brothers and sisters. Becoming aware of the need to work towards an expansion of consciousness is a true advancement, one that we ardently support. Happy are the brothers and sisters who are genuinely committed; they will not regret it.
