Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, October 18, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

These very special rendezvous have become a benchmark in our Mission, as they demonstrate through these comments the manifestation of divine power. All high-level Masters are bearers of that power; in addition, at the material level, the incarnate Master can operate in a different and more precise manner. Everything must be positioned securely in our Mission; today's world requires other methods: an action on the material plane that is crucial in this century of transformation. Human beings have requirements they did not have in previous centuries. People's minds are opening up — not always in the right direction, but hearts touched by grace are making their way to the kingdom of light. We offer the means to today's humans to facilitate their rise towards it. This craving for the Divine manifests differently in certain beings; it literally glows in them and propels them towards our hearts.

This 'enterprise' is sizeable; there lies the most beautiful challenge for human beings. When they become aware of it and act accordingly, a royal pathway opens up before them and we make it even more accessible to them by adorning this process in our own manner.

Blessed are the hearts that are committed, sincere and determined to conquer this world of the sovereign Spirit, where opportunities are great and the path is made easier according to the seeker's disposition. Love begets love; such is the law, and nothing can change it. Blessed are those who carry this torch.
