Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, October 23, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, dream of a perfect world; build it in your heart, imagine yourself in the beautiful nature that you miss so much, and you will feel a profound call that far transcends human perceptions. Go beyond the world of matter; there lies another capacity for revelling in incomparable peace.

Feel this wonder inside you. So many people aspire to live these moments, but they do not know 'the way' and they cannot imagine it. Proposing an appropriate method to hearts that are willing to engage in it is a responsible thing to do. It is up to each one to see, according to their aspirations; nothing can be forced. It is up to each one to go where guided by their heart; in this matter, they are best placed to do the right thing, from the moment the ideal prospect is made clear to them.

More and more men and women are feeling this call; the new era that is dawning will transform humans in many areas. There is so much to do; modern life, which is supposed to lead this world to the best, brings so much disturbance and lack of respect for others, and for core values that are no longer assigned their true worth.

We are not moralisers; we are just trying to draw attention to anything that can hinder a being's evolution in this very troubled world. We offer a 'way', a method that can lead one towards the best in oneself, which is not easily discerned. May all our brothers and sisters carefully consider this potential and progress in this discovery of their deepest being, their real aptitudes, and the incomparable joys provided by such a spiritual advancement. Blessed are the pure in heart: they shall see the light, the only one capable of enchanting a soul.

Blessings to all.
