Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, March 19, 2001 – 8:00 a.m.

Search and see only the beauty in humankind and around you all. Do like the lotus that grows up towards the light, disregarding the mud from which it emerges. By seeing only beauty, you make the world progress. To conceive of it in the image of the Creator is to give it a chance to transform.

Human beings suffer on this path of slavery where they are advancing. Do they call God in their hearts? Do they aspire to receive His grace? Each soul is ready to receive it. One blessed moment is enough for everything to shift radically. One should not despair of humanity; it is changing in its own way. Life is tough here below.

Call within yourselves this new stage when, on Earth, all your brothers and sisters will advance together and in the same direction.

This dream is not utopian, to God nothing is impossible. Imagine it, create it in yourselves as you wish – this future world where human beings will respect what surrounds them, their fellow creatures and the whole of creation.

This time will come, in a very distant future. There will surely be circumstances to make human beings finally understand that the harvest comes from what one sows.

Babuji