Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, March 28, 2001 – 8:00 a.m.

To you, my dear son, the day you come and join us, you will be able to measure the extent of the work you have done on this Earth. These notions are hard to grasp while incarnate. The physical body creates limitations, it is unavoidable. One cannot enter this system while keeping full consciousness of action carried out at very subtle vibratory levels.

Your power is used in areas that escape your recognition. You have reached the highest level of your Earthly achievements. This last part of your life will allow you to display your abilities to the fullest extent.

Spare yourself, as we said previously, your strengths must be reserved for increasingly subtle and targeted work. You are a luminous point on this Earth, completely in tune with the highest spheres and working in sacred union with them. You cannot humanly assess the impact of your action – it is grandiose. My dear son, I am happy, especially today, to highlight an aspect of your work that is greatly appreciated. Accept this life, my dear son, this exile is productive beyond our hopes.
