Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, June 17, 2002 – 10:00 a.m.

This diving into yourself, isn't it worth all the joys of this world? The depth of your mystical life must enable you to realize that. The more you advance on this way, the more you will be detached from what is unnecessary.

Your priorities will no longer be the same; look at the road you have already travelled in this spirit. You are no longer the same. Beyond appearances, beyond this personality of yours, a heart enamoured of the absolute is developing. You unceasingly call the divine greatness, its strength and its gentleness, within you. You would like to be only that, with every fibre of your body. You would like your soul to merge in it and to exist only through it.

You feel as if you are pumped up, carried by this force, in these unique moments of intense communion.

Our most fervent candidates, the most mystical, will understand these remarks; they will own them. They will integrate them perfectly and will live them with a heart full of joy. May it remain in them and in all of you who are seeking the One, the Divine.
