Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, May 17, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

My daughter, you have long understood: loving God is a fundamental notion. The being cannot find its true dimension without this ability to open itself to love.

Blessed be the hearts that are simple and entirely focussed on this noble destination, always moving forward in this sublime quest, devoting body and soul to it.

These beings are vectors who, in turn, radiate a subtle energy. What they capture, they give again a hundredfold, and this action can be felt far away from this point of impact, as far as the 'beyond'. Divine energy knows no barrier, it is limitless and its manifestation can take place ad infinitum.

This energy is of a pure and unique essence, nothing can compare with it.

It is not easy to describe the intangible and that which is invisible to the human eye.

In refining itself, the human heart becomes more receptive – this possibility of seizing the ineffable opens up before it; advancing in this discovery, it remains astounded. Its surprises are far from over.

Let faculties hitherto unsuspected develop in all of you.

Let yourselves be won over by Love, this power capable of everything, that is to say of the best.
